flora-tec
People, Passion, Professionalism

Introduction and Overview

Healthy & maintained grounds give the right impression about your business but they also mitigate risk by ensuring they are a safe environment for your staff and visitors.

We have decades of experience in grounds maintenance services to corporate and public sector organisations of all sizes across the UK. By choosing us, your grounds will be efficiently managed and maintained to strict standards by our skilled and passionate workforce to ensure you are always looking your best.

Why work with Flora-Tec?

Certainty - We do what we say we're going to do.

It's really simple. We agree the items that need to be done and the frequency of visits based on your requirements and the seasons. We understand the security requirements and any specific health and safety issues on your sites that we need to adhere to. And then we get on a deliver.

A common sense approach

If we see something that needs to be done that is an ad-hoc job such as tree pruning or clearance of an area we don't normally deal with, we'll check with you first to get your go-ahead before we get on and do it.

We help mitigate your risks

Generally we'll spend more time in your grounds than anyone else and so are in a unique position to see potential areas of risk. Our teams are briefed to look for any areas of concern, such as mis-placed man-hole covers or damage to fencing and we report them to the appropriate person.

A sample of our clients

We have worked with many clients across a range of different industries and sectors as well as tackling contracts with all sizes and specifications. Below illustrates a few of the clients our grounds maintenance team has worked with, both past and present.
